

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT: Voice of Our Generation, Volume 3 Canceled over Weather and Safety Concerns

The safety of all parties remains our highest priority. We are committed to acting responsibly, respectfully, and decisively in response to these circumstances.

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, October 21, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Due to imminent and severe weather conditions impacting the Dominican Republic and the region, the "Voices of Our Generation, Volume 3" concert scheduled for November 1, at Altos de Chavón, has been officially canceled.

Tropical Storm Melissa is forecasted to bring flooding, continuous heavy rain, dangerous winds, and coastal surge to portions of the Dominican Republic. These conditions will create hazardous work environments, dangerous travel, and pose significant risks of power outages, communication disruptions, transportation failures, and potential loss of life.

To ensure the safety and wellbeing of our production team, artists, and attendees—and to show respect for those impacted—the event will not proceed. The safety of all parties remains our highest priority. We are committed to acting responsibly, respectfully, and decisively in response to these circumstances.

Ticket holders, you do not need to take any action to receive your refund. A full refund of your ticket purchase will be automatically processed to your original method of payment.

We appreciate your support and understanding.
