

BPMG's GemHub Forms Strategic Collaboration with Ethereum Layer-2 Network Scroll

Blockchain company BPMG announced that its flagship project GemHub has entered into a strategic collaboration with Scroll

SEOUL, SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA, October 22, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Blockchain company BPMG announced that its flagship project GemHub has entered into a strategic collaboration with Scroll, an Ethereum-based Layer-2 network leveraging zero-knowledge rollup (zkRollup) technology.

Scroll, developed over the past three years since 2021, has processed more than 100 million transactions to date, achieving a throughput of 110+ transactions per second and a total value locked (TVL) of $1.3 billion. Known for its scalability and low transaction costs, Scroll is widely recognized as one of the most promising Layer-2 solutions for the Ethereum ecosystem.

Our collaboration on stablecoin systems will be a cornerstone in bridging Web3 technologies with real-world payments.”

Ji-Hoon Cha, CEO of BPMG

Through this collaboration, GemHub will integrate Scroll's chain technology into its Web3 ecosystem, beginning with Poplus, a next-generation social platform currently in development. The companies will also collaborate on stablecoin infrastructure, extending BPMG's ongoing projects with Kbank in Thailand and Dubai to support cross-border payments and real-world adoption.

“By integrating Scroll into GemHub, we aim to scale our ecosystem globally and accelerate the adoption of blockchain in everyday life,” said Ji-Hoon Cha, CEO of BPMG. “Our collaboration on stablecoin systems will be a cornerstone in bridging Web3 technologies with real-world payments.”

GemHub's flagship product, Poplus, is set to launch later this year. The Web3-based social platform allows users to curate and evaluate content, rewarding them with GemHub tokens. It will also integrate with Web3 games such as Fortress, Dragon Flight, and Rappelz M, alongside personalized AI agent features.
