Meeting the Growing Need for Adaptable Storage and Workspace Solutions

As modern industries prioritize mobility, modularity, and cost-effective space management, the demand for mid-size, durable containers continues to surge. CMG's 20ft containers strike the ideal balance — spacious enough to handle heavy-duty storage yet compact enough for easy transportation and on-site use.

Their versatility makes them an excellent choice for construction firms, logistics providers, retail operators, event planners, and residential projects. Whether for inventory management, temporary workstations, or portable offices, these containers adapt effortlessly to diverse business environments.

“The 20ft container has long been the backbone of the modular and shipping industry,” said Ken Malkoç, CEO of CMG Containers. “It’s the size that gives our clients freedom — enough room to grow, with the mobility to move wherever their operations take them.”
