

ISAT-Dubai 2026 dates Announced: The International Summit for Aviation Training

ISAT – The International Summit for Aviation Training is set to take place 29–30 September 2026 at the Dubai World Trade Centre (DWTC).

DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, October 23, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ISAT Dubai 2026 dates Announced: The International Summit for Aviation Training

29–30 September 2026 – Dubai World Trade Centre

The global aviation training community will converge in Dubai for ISAT – The International Summit for Aviation Training, set to take place 29–30 September 2026 at the Dubai World Trade Centre (DWTC).

Designed as a high-level B2B platform, ISAT addresses one of the most pressing challenges facing the aviation industry today: the development and sustainability of the future aviation workforce.

A Strategic Platform for a Global Challenge

ISAT unites airlines, training organizations (ATOs), regulators, OEMs, solution providers, and investors across the Middle East, Africa, and India — three regions representing the fastest-growing demand for aviation professionals worldwide.

According to Airbus, Boeing, and CAE, more than 1.34 million new aviation professionals will be needed globally by 2034. Nearly 30% of that demand — around 465,000 professionals — will come from these regions alone.

With more than 400 new or expanded training organizations (ATOs) required to meet this demand, ISAT serves as a strategic meeting point for stakeholders shaping the next generation of aviation education and capacity building.

Conference & Exhibition: Connecting Policy, Innovation, and Industry

Over two days, ISAT will deliver:

Conference Tracks covering Pilot, Cabin Crew, Maintenance, and Air Traffic Control (ATC) training

Dedicated sessions on Artificial Intelligence, CBTA, eVTOL, and Urban Air Mobility training

An exclusive investor program highlighting opportunities in training infrastructure development

A dynamic B2B exhibition showcasing the latest technologies, simulators, and learning systems

Matchmaking and hosted buyer sessions connecting exhibitors with decision-makers from over 100 international airlines

Dubai: The Global Aviation Crossroads

As the world's most connected aviation hub, Dubai offers an ideal setting for ISAT.

Located just 10 minutes from Dubai International Airport (DXB) and linked via Dubai Metro, the DWTC provides unparalleled access, with more than 50 hotels nearby and world-class event infrastructure.

Dubai's position as a strategic hub between Europe, Asia, and Africa makes it the perfect location for ISAT to bridge global aviation communities and accelerate collaboration in professional training and workforce development.
