WATERBURY, Conn., October 22, 2025 - Emerest Home

Care of Connecticut today announced the grand opening of its new Waterbury facility, marking a major milestone in expanding access to compassionate, high-quality home care across the state.

The new center is the first in Connecticut to offer dedicated spa and self-care services for home health aides, underscoring Emerest's commitment to supporting caregivers so they can better serve patients and families.

The grand opening celebration will feature remarks from Josh Klein, CEO and Co-Founder of Emerest Health, alongside local and regional officials and community leaders. Attendees will tour the facility and experience firsthand the innovative caregiver-support amenities designed to promote well-being, retention, and professional development.

"Caregivers are the foundation of home care," said Josh Klein, CEO of Emerest Health. "By investing in their well-being, we ensure that patients receive more compassionate and consistent support. This facility represents our belief that when caregivers thrive, communities thrive. We're proud to have been part of Connecticut's home care community for more than a decade and to continue growing here in ways that support both caregivers and families."

Located at 454-462 Wolcott Street in Waterbury, the new facility will serve families throughout New Haven County, Stratford, and surrounding areas, offering both traditional home care and enhanced programs focused on caregiver training, engagement, and wellness. This expansion builds on more than a decade of Emerest's service and growth across Connecticut, deepening its roots through programs that prioritize both caregiver support and high-quality patient care.

Emerest has rapidly expanded across New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Missouri, and Connecticut, earning recognition for combining personalized care with innovative technology through its NY affiliate Royal Care. Together, these organizations deliver a seamless continuum of care that improves patient outcomes and elevates the caregiver experience.
