People with disabling illnesses and injuries, such as brain injury, stroke, and other complex medical, neurological, and orthopedic diseases and injuries, will be cared for under the management of Nobis. A team of medical rehabilitation physicians, physical therapists, occupational therapists, speech-language pathologists, rehab-trained nurses, and the hospital's support team will develop an intensive physical and medical rehabilitation program for each patient during their inpatient stay.

"Nobis is honored to serve King County and the nearby communities as well as partner with local health systems. We appreciate the Department of Health's diligence in the application process," said Chester Crouch, Founder and CEO of Nobis. "The Seattle Rehabilitation Hospital will bring over 100 career opportunities to the Seattle area and the surrounding communities."
