

INKBIRD Elevates Smart Cooking with Seamless Apple Watch Integration for Its Meat Thermometers

INKBIRD's latest Apple Watch connectivity for its meat thermometers offers hands-free cooking with real-time monitoring and alerts on their wrists.

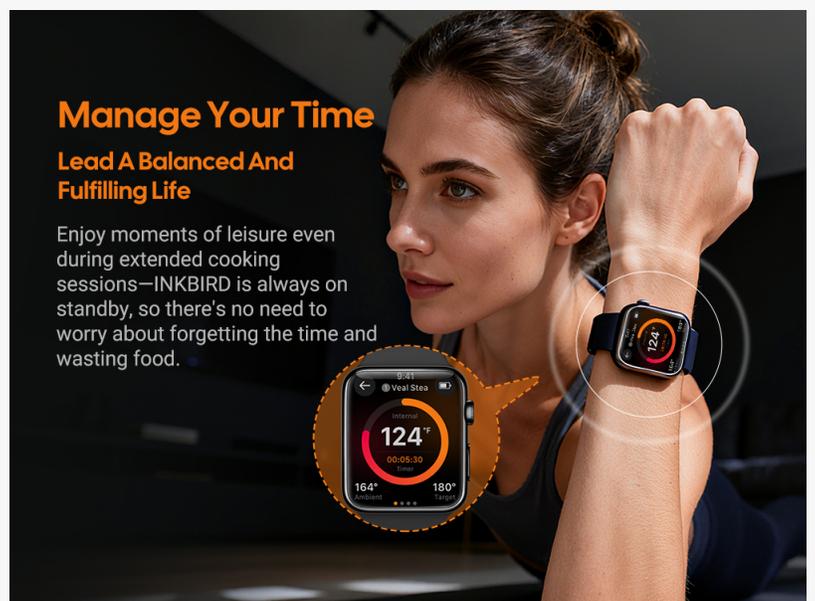

SHENZHEN, GUANGDONG, CHINA, October 24, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- INKBIRD, a leading innovator in smart kitchen and home technology, today announced a significant upgrade to its line of meat thermometers, introducing seamless Apple Watch connectivity. This new feature set redefines kitchen convenience, offering users unprecedented freedom and control during cooking.

The new feature enables real-time monitoring of food temperature and cooking progress directly from a compatible smartwatch. Users can now simply lift their wrist to check on their meal, with all critical alerts and timers accessible at a touch. This hands-free approach allows for effortless multitasking, giving users the freedom to step away from the kitchen without worry.

Designed for the modern home chef who values precision and efficiency, as well as both quick weeknight dinners and lengthy smoking sessions, INKBIRD's system ensures accuracy and prevents overcooking.
