

Screenrights, ANZSA & SPA Welcome Federal Government Decision to Rule Out Text & Data Mining Exception for Generative AI

SYDNEY, NSW, AUSTRALIA, October 27, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Screenrights, the Australia New Zealand Screen Association (ANZSA) and Screen Producers Australia (SPA)

have released the following statement in support of the Federal Government's announcement that it will not introduce a Text and Data Mining (TDM) exception into Australian copyright law:

Left to right: ANZSA, SPA, Screenrights

"We welcome the Attorney's announcement ruling out a Text and Data Mining (TDM) exception. Australia's Copyright Act is fit for purpose. This is a sensible and pragmatic decision that allows for innovation and creativity to progress hand-in-hand for the benefit of rights holders, creators, AI developers, and the Australian public and audiences."

James Dickinson – CEO, Screenrights

Matthew Deaner – CEO, Screen Producers Australia

Paul Muller – CEO, Australia New Zealand Screen Association

Lachlan Camilleri

Original Spin

lachlan@originalspin.com.au

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/861772912>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2025 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.