Through its Anchor acquisition, Canopii extends into provider revenue cycle services, deepening impact across healthcare organizations.

LEANDER, TX, UNITED STATES, November 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Canopii Collaborative, a leading technology-enabled healthcare consulting firm, is proud to announce the acquisition of Anchor Healthcare Consultants—a strategic move that strengthens Canopii's capabilities in the provider revenue cycle space and accelerates its mission to achieve optimal payer-provider integration while eliminating unnecessary administrative costs across the healthcare ecosystem.

Canopii Collaborative

With this acquisition, Canopii unites two like-minded organizations, both founded by former Epic employees and dedicated to delivering meaningful, client-first solutions. Anchor's deep expertise in provider operations and revenue cycle innovation—combined with Canopii's strong foundation in tech-driven optimization for payers—creates an industry-leading force focused on reducing friction and driving measurable financial improvements across healthcare.

"The acquisition of Anchor Healthcare Consultants marks an important step in Canopii's growth as we expand our solutions to address the needs of both payers and providers," said Brent Benner, President of Canopii Collaborative.

"By adding Anchor's deep domain expertise in revenue cycle as well as their Neptune analytics platform to our ecosystem, we're advancing our mission to achieve optimal payer-provider integration, to reduce administrative costs, and improve financial performance across healthcare. We're excited to welcome Anchor to Canopii and to build on our shared Epic heritage to deliver even greater impact for our clients."

Anchor Healthcare Consultants is widely respected for its experienced, mission-driven team that partners closely with provider organizations to drive meaningful change. Their proprietary tools and accelerators support this work by helping clients identify and act on high-impact optimization opportunities—further aligning with Canopii's culture of client-first, results-driven collaboration.

As part of the acquisition, Joe Galea, Anchor's Co-Founder and CEO, will remain with the organization and serve as Principal over Provider Solutions at Canopii. Anchor's entire team will transition into Canopii, leveraging combined infrastructure, talent, and technology to amplify the value they deliver to clients.

"Joining Canopii represents an exciting new chapter for Anchor and the clients we serve," said Joe Galea. "From the beginning, Anchor's focus has been on helping provider organizations maximize the value of their Epic investment, and now, with Canopii, we'll have even greater resources and reach to achieve that vision. I'm thrilled that our entire team will continue on this journey as part of Canopii, and I look forward to leading our expanded revenue cycle solutions practice together."

Together, Canopii and Anchor are poised to offer end-to-end application and optimization services for health plans and providers alike—delivering tangible, tech-enabled results across a wide range of operational domains. The merger builds momentum for Canopii's long-term strategy to tackle the systemic inefficiencies burdening healthcare—particularly the estimated $285 to $570 billion in wasted administrative spending each year. This milestone signals to the industry: Canopii Collaborative is scaling with purpose. With a growing team, deepened capabilities, and a relentless focus on driving meaningful results, Canopii continues to be a place where mission-driven consultants thrive—and where healthcare organizations find real, lasting partnership.
