

Redefining Discretion: Hummingbird Executive Unites Global Luxury assets and white glove Services in One Secure App

The ultimate private gateway to consulting, concierge, and confidential investment opportunities worldwide

CANNES, FRANCE, October 28, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Hummingbird Executive Launches a Private Luxury App Connecting Affluent Clients to Secure Consulting and Concierge Services Worldwide

Hummingbird Executive, the premier private lifestyle and consulting platform, officially launches its exclusive mobile application designed for high-net-worth individuals, family offices, and discerning investors. Combining elite consulting, bespoke concierge, and secure technology, the app redefines how affluent clients access luxury services and off-market opportunities worldwide.

Hummingbird Executive is more than an app — it's a philosophy of refined living, exclusive access, and uncompromising privacy.”

Guillaume Nardini

Discretion Meets Innovation

Born from years of experience in the luxury, real estate, and entertainment industries, Hummingbird Executive was created to answer one critical need: absolute privacy. The app offers members a confidential environment where every transaction, request, and interaction remains secure and traceable only through authorized access.

“Privacy, precision, and personalization are at the heart of Hummingbird Executive,” said Deborah Duquesne, Founder and CEO. “I've built a platform where clients can explore investment opportunities, book premium experiences, and access trusted global experts — all with complete discretion.”

Two Worlds in One Platform

For you, we'll fly backward

The Hummingbird Executive app unites two distinct but complementary universes:

Hummingbird Consulting — A private consulting service offering off-market access to high-value assets such as real estate, yachts, jets, hotels, and rare collectibles. It also opens the door to vetted investment opportunities and exclusive introductions through trusted partnerships.

Hummingbird Concierge — A premium lifestyle management service that delivers tailored experiences, from last-minute travel and villa bookings to VIP access at global events, fine dining, and luxury transportation. Each request is handled by a dedicated team ensuring seamless execution and confidentiality.

Membership Designed for the Discerning

Hummingbird Executive offers three membership tiers, each catering to different levels of access and exclusivity:

Free Application — Open to all users seeking to explore concierge services during business hours, with fees applied per reservation.

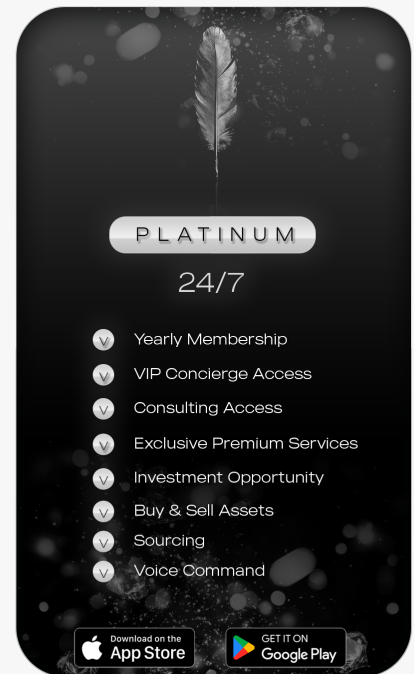

Gold Membership — Tailored for clients seeking consistent concierge support during business hours, seven days a week.

Platinum Membership (waiting list and upon acceptance) — The pinnacle of access. Invitation-only, this tier includes 24/7 dedicated concierge, consulting privileges, and priority access to off-market listings & investments. Each Platinum Member undergoes a thorough vetting process and signs comprehensive confidentiality and service agreements.

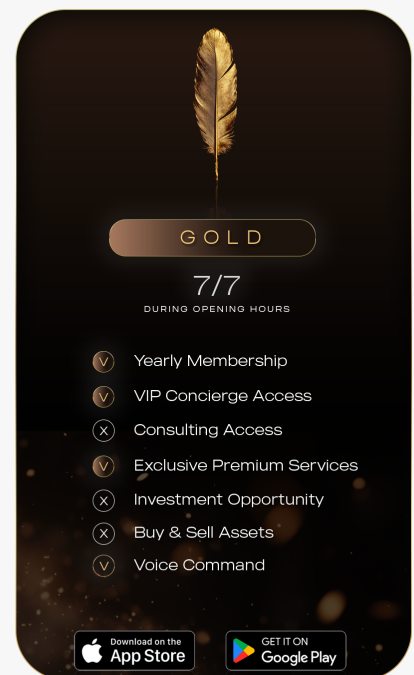

Security and Trust at Every Level

Security is embedded in every layer of the app's design. From end-to-end data encryption and secure API protocols to screenshot blocking within sensitive consulting sections, Hummingbird Executive ensures user information and asset data remain uncompromised.

A unique access validation system also protects confidential property or asset information. Clients must submit a secure request before accessing full details, ensuring that only verified members receive sensitive documents and price disclosures.

A Vision Rooted in Experience

The Hummingbird Executive concept was inspired by its founders' decades of experience leaving amongst global elites — from private investors and family offices to A-list celebrities. The company's ecosystem also includes Hummingbird Consulting, Hummingbird Recording Studio, and Hummingbird Estate in Cannes, a private creative and residential retreat for artists and executives.

Backed by partnerships with leading brands such as SBM Monte Carlo, Universal Music France, and Roc Nation, the platform merges business, culture, and lifestyle into one seamless experience.

Technology Meets Tradition

Hummingbird Executive app incorporates cutting-edge digital features while preserving the human touch that defines luxury service. Members can: no Useless gadgets, adds.

Book travel, dining, and experiences directly in-app
Request access to off-market investment files through secure forms
Schedule confidential meetings with consultants or asset owners
Connect with verified partners under full data protection
Access 24/7 assistance with multilingual support

Each interaction is handled by a curated team of professionals committed to excellence, discretion, and long-term relationships.

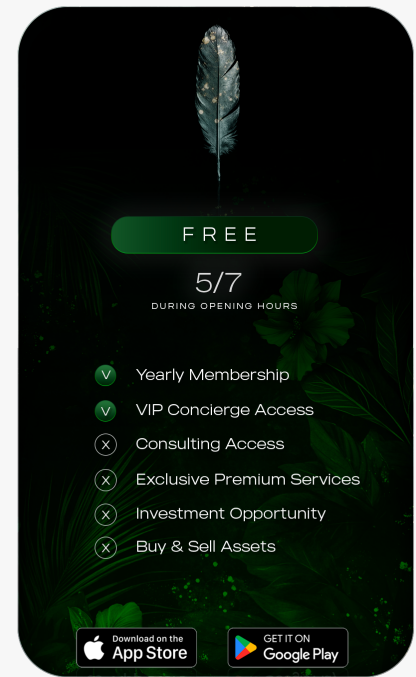

Expanding the World of Confidential Luxury

Hummingbird Executive isn't just an app; it's a philosophy — a commitment to redefining how privacy and privilege intersect in the digital age. Its approach bridges the gap between exclusivity and accessibility, offering elite clients a seamless gateway to both luxury lifestyle services and serious investment opportunities while keeping their identity secure.
