This new partnership allows MyBTCX.com users to purchase top cryptocurrencies like Bitcoin (BTC), Ethereum (ETH), and more than 100 other digital assets such as Tether (USDT), USD Coin (USDC), Binance Coin (BNB), Solana (SOL), and Ripple (XRP) to name a few. With Simplex's infrastructure, the platform now supports a wider range of currencies, payment methods, and transaction routing options, empowering users worldwide to choose the purchasing pathway that best suits their needs.

Simplex: A Trusted Global Payments Provider

Founded in 2014, Simplex is a licensed financial institution that bridges traditional finance and digital assets. The company processes millions of transactions annually, offering secure and instant purchases through Visa, Mastercard, Apple Pay, and Google Pay. Its global reach spans over 100 fiat currencies and thousands of issuing banks, making sure of strong coverage across Europe, Asia, the Americas, and beyond.

Simplex's integration with MyBTCX.com reinforces the platform's commitment to accessibility. Users who may face regional restrictions or declined card authorizations from one processor can now complete their purchases effortlessly through another, ensuring continuity, flexibility, and peace of mind.

Banxa + Simplex: Dual Aggregators for Maximum Crypto Coverage

With both Banxa and Simplex now integrated, MyBTCX.com offers dual payment partners and a plethora of payment rails that really enhance the reliability and coverage needed to succeed in crypto trading activities. If a transaction is unsuccessful through one provider, be it due to regional limitations, card restrictions, or network issues, users can instantly retry via the alternative provider.

This dual-provider system allows customers to use Visa, Mastercard, Apple Pay, Google Pay, SEPA, PayID, PIX, Khipu, and local banking rails in supported regions, positioning MyBTCX.com as one of the most comprehensive global crypto purchase platforms available.

Why This Integration Matters

The global cryptocurrency market continues to evolve rapidly, and accessibility remains a key factor in user adoption. By integrating Simplex, MyBTCX.com expands its payment coverage to over 130 countries, ensuring that users around the world can buy digital assets using their preferred local currency or card issuer.

The partnership also aligns with the platform's mission to bridge the gap between traditional banking and digital finance, offering an intuitive experience supported by industry-leading compliance and transaction security.
