

PreludeSys and its Sub-Brands Evolve into LevelShift to Drive Industry-Specific AI Transformation

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, October 30, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ --

PreludeSys, along with its sub-brands DemandBlue and DemandDynamics, today announced its evolution into

LevelShift, a new unified brand dedicated to helping organizations transform into AI-native enterprises.

LevelShift reflects PreludeSys's strategic evolution from a horizontal technology enabler to an industry-focused AI transformation partner. With artificial intelligence rapidly reshaping business strategy, LevelShift delivers deeply customized, vertical AI roadmaps that unlock measurable outcomes—not just technology deployment.

AI is no longer optional; it's the foundation of future business. LevelShift gives customers a trusted path to embed AI across core business functions and achieve real, industry-specific impact."

LevelShift*

Key Highlights of LevelShift:

- Vertical AI Expertise: Strategic shift from horizontal services to deep, industry-specific AI solutions.
- AI Center of Excellence: A single, trusted touchpoint guiding organizations through every phase of AI adoption.
- Unified Brand Identity: Bringing clarity, scale, and trust to every customer engagement.

LevelShift begins a new chapter — one that's focused on embedding AI responsibly, driving innovation across industries, and building trusted partnerships that last. The goal is not just to keep pace with change, but to lead it. LevelShift is also a promise — a commitment to continuous growth, learning, and leadership in this defining technological era.
