As winter storms become more unpredictable and severe, commercial properties need a partner they can count on”

Ted Lucia

“As winter storms become more unpredictable and severe, commercial properties need a partner they can count on,” said Ted Lucia President of Lucia Landscaping. “Our mission is to ensure our clients’ sites remain safe, accessible, and fully operational — no matter the weather.”

A National Leader in Snow & Ice Management, Lucia Landscaping has consistently ranked among the Top 100 Snow Contractors in North America, recognized by the Snow & Ice Management Association (SIMA) and Snow Business magazine. The company was also honored as one of the Best Places to Work in Snow & Ice Management, highlighting its commitment to both customer satisfaction and employee excellence.

With a 24/7 dispatch center, in-house meteorologists, GPS-tracked fleets, and real-time reporting systems, Lucia Landscaping has developed a data-driven approach that prioritizes speed, safety, and transparency for every client.

Lucia Landscaping's winter operations combine cutting-edge technology with professional training and a proactive service model:

- 24/7 Operations Command Center ensuring rapid response and consistent communication
- Dedicated Account Managers for each property to oversee quality and safety standards
- Liquid Brine Anti-Icing Systems to prevent hazardous buildup before storms hit
- Private Weather Monitoring Systems and proactive storm alerts
- Weekly Safety and Skills Training through the company's internal LLI University
- Comprehensive Fleet of loaders, skid steers, trucks, and specialized plowing equipment

"Our team doesn't just clear snow, we protect our clients' operations and reputations," added Ted Lucia "We invest heavily in technology, people, and process to deliver dependable results during the most challenging conditions."
