

Road2SEMA Rally Reaches Texas as Global Enthusiasts Drive Coast-to-Coast for Make-A-Wish America

ROAD2SEMA: The ultimate coast-to-coast rally to SEMA, where custom cars and creators unite for one epic cause: driving dreams with Make-A-Wish Foundation.

LAS VEGAS, NV, UNITED STATES, October 31, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Road2SEMA Rally, a coast-to-coast automotive event supporting Make-A-Wish America, continues to unite builders, creators, and enthusiasts on an 10-day journey across the United States toward the SEMA Show in Las Vegas.

ROAD2SEMA rolls into Gas Monkey Garage for some twin-turbo mayhem

The rally celebrates car culture, craftsmanship, and community; showcasing everything from hand-built modern classics to high-performance supercars, all driving for a shared cause.

A Surprise Passenger Joins the Convoy

During the Tennessee leg, the Road2SEMA team welcomed Keller Moore, host of Daily Driven Exotics (DDE), driving his Tennessee police cruiser-themed Audi R8. The destination that day was The Edge Motor Museum, a Memphis landmark that celebrates American classics in a beautifully curated space right next to the legendary Sun Studio, where Elvis Presley and Johnny Cash first made history.

The day took an unexpected turn when participants picked up a hitchhiker, Peter Kvačay, known online as @Kvakyfrom Bratislava, Slovakia. Quickly embraced by the team, Peter joined the convoy as it continued westward, a reminder of the rally's global reach and inclusive spirit. Before departing Memphis, the group paid tribute to Elvis Presley with a visit to Graceland, marking one of the most memorable moments of the journey so far.

From Memphis to Gas Monkey Garage

The sixth day saw the convoy covering more than 400 miles to Dallas, Texas, where the group was hosted at the world-famous Gas Monkey Garage, led by Richard Rawlings.

“We wanted to give the Road2SEMA team a proper Texas welcome,” said Rawlings. “They rolled in with serious energy and turned the yard into a celebration of international car culture.” The visit featured impromptu demonstrations from several standout vehicles, including an all-wheel-drive twin-turbo Lamborghini and a twin-turbo LS3-powered (with 6 bucket seats!), Mercedes-Benz limousine, both captivating spectators with tire smoke and precision driving. Rawlings described one display as “one of the tightest donuts ever done at GMG.”

Afterward, the convoy gathered at the Gas Monkey Icehouse for an evening of conversation, barbecue, and community before preparing for the next stage of their journey.

Next Stop: Roswell, New Mexico

With new friendships formed and momentum building, the Road2SEMA Rally now continues toward Roswell, New Mexico, where the open desert roads set the stage for the next chapter of this coast-to-coast adventure.
