Honoring a century of laughter and joy, "Dick Van Dyke: 100th Celebration," a feature-length film event from EMMY®-winning filmmakers Steve Boettcher and Michael Trinklein, pays tribute to one of America's most beloved entertainers. Tracing the unmatched career of an actor, singer, dancer, and comedian extraordinaire -- a true American treasure, the film showcases Van Dyke's infectious charm, masterful physical comedy, and enduring talent that still captivates audiences across generations. Featuring unforgettable moments from "Bye Bye Birdie," "Mary Poppins," "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang," "The Dick Van Dyke Show," and more, the film includes candid reflections from Van Dyke himself and personal memories from friends and collaborators such as Mary Tyler Moore, Chita Rivera, Betty White, Carl Reiner, Derek Hough, Morey Amsterdam, Rose Marie, Michele Lee, as well as expert insight by producer/director Richard Jay-Alexander and veteran entertainment journalist, Gino Salomone. At the heart of the documentary is Van Dyke's poignant return to his hometown of Danville, Illinois—a heartfelt journey that shines a light on the community that helped shape a legend.
