Nevis has set a new benchmark when it comes to secure and user-friendly authentication

Security and great user experience go hand in hand. With CSW-IT, we'll bring our passwordless CIAM solutions to more Australian enterprises with local expertise and proven scalability.”

Nevis Security*

The digital landscape is in constant flux. In order to navigate these shifts, companies require robust solutions that take into consideration changing regulations, evolving technologies, and new risks. Nevis' global expertise in the implementation of FIDO-based authentication technology will help CSW-IT tackle these challenges by delivering passwordless solutions that enhance security and usability.

This new partnership between Nevis and CSW-IT will streamline the integration of advanced CIAM solutions for Australian enterprises. CSW-IT's insight into and knowledge of local business requirements and its proven track record in managing complex IT infrastructures positions the company as the ideal partner to deliver Nevis's passwordless authentication technology.

By combining CSW-IT's deep expertise in IT services, cybersecurity, networking, hybrid cloud, and unified communications with Nevis's CIAM technology, this partnership will help Australian organisations simplify their IT, reduce costs, and improve operational resilience.

“Nevis’ motto has always been that security and an exceptional customer experience are inseparable, a core value that CSW-IT also shares. We are excited to bring our passwordless, secure CIAM solutions to more Australian enterprises with a partner who truly understands the local market and has the proven expertise to implement and support our technology at scale.”
Callum Seth, Head of APJ, Nevis Security

“At CSW-IT, we are committed to safeguarding and future-proofing our clients’ digital infrastructures. We look forward to strengthening this commitment with Nevis’ CIAM solution to deliver even more integrated protection for Australian businesses.” Callum McDonald, CEO, CSW-IT
