Its affiliated platforms, EggDonors4All.com and IndianEggDonors.com, also appear among the Tier 1 agencies for their emphasis on ethical recruitment, health screening, and global accessibility for intended parents.

The Growing Need for Trusted Guidance

With more than 300,000 IVF cycles performed annually in the U.S.—and about 12 percent involving donor eggs—the ranking underscores the importance of medical oversight and ethical standards in egg donation. Many intended parents turn to this list to avoid unregulated middlemen or unverified online donor networks that may lack medical transparency.
