

WebMax Canada Launches Free National Directory for Prefab, Modular & Mass-Timber Builders

Free Canadian directory helps builders, trades & suppliers be found, trusted & connected across traditional & AI search.

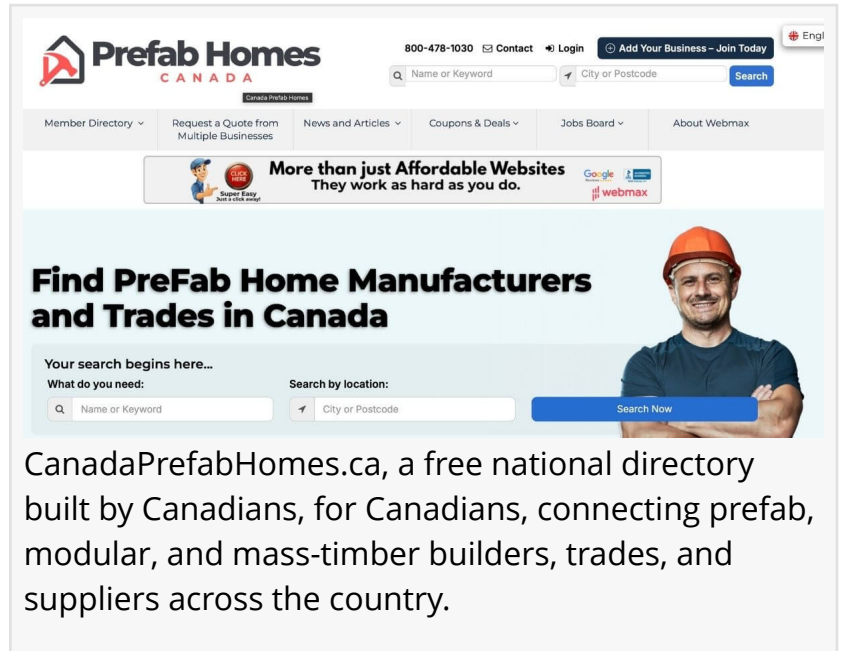

VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA, November 4, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- WebMax Canada Launches CanadaPrefabHomes.ca, Free National Directory Connecting Prefab, Modular & Mass-Timber Builders, Trades & Suppliers

WebMax Canada, a 100% Canadian-owned web design and SEO firm, has launched CanadaPrefabHomes.ca, a fully searchable, nationwide directory connecting prefab, modular, and mass-timber builders, manufacturers, and trades across Canada.

The launch follows today's federal budget announcement of a C$50 billion local infrastructure fund supporting housing, transportation, and health projects, alongside continued investment through the Build Canada Homes initiative, a C$13 billion program promoting factory-built and mass-timber construction under the Buy Canadian policy. Together with the government's new Housing Design Catalogue, featuring 50 ready-to-build designs for communities and homeowners, the directory helps make Canadian prefab, modular, and mass-timber suppliers easier to find and connect with, for homeowners, small builders, and larger developers alike.

CanadaPrefabHomes.ca is free to use and free to list. Recently launched, the directory is now being populated with verified Canadian prefab, modular, and mass-timber companies, along with manufacturers, suppliers, and trades, from electricians and plumbers to foundation specialists, concrete crews, excavators, and site-preparation professionals. Listings are organized by province and region for easy discovery and will continue to grow as more Canadian businesses join.

"For ten years, we've worked closely with trades and service businesses across Canada," said

We wanted to create a credible, practical resource that helps real Canadian businesses be found by homeowners, builders, and organizations already searching for prefab and modular solutions.”
