-- Cirrus Aviation Services, the largest private aviation company in Nevada and one of the largest in the United States, is proud to announce the launch of its first-ever by-the-seat membership program in partnership with Theos, an exclusive membership club curating high-caliber travel and lifestyle experiences for a discerning clientele, offering private direct flights between Van Nuys, Calif., and Las Vegas, Nev., on its spacious Challenger 850 aircraft. The program officially debuts during the highly anticipated Las Vegas Race Week, Nov. 20–23, 2025, with packages that include both round-trip and one-way options.

To celebrate the launch of its partnership with Theos, Cirrus Aviation is offering two exclusive opportunities for non-members to experience Theos flights—Las Vegas Race Week, Nov. 20–23, and an upcoming New Year's Eve schedule. These are the only chances non-members can fly with Theos, providing front-row access to high-demand routes while enjoying curated amenities, personalized service, and seamless ground transportation through Theos's exclusive partner, Kaptyn. Guests who choose to apply for Theos will have their membership fee waived from now until the end of the year.

"Our partnership with Theos represents an exciting new chapter for Cirrus Aviation, bringing the flexibility and convenience of private aviation to more travelers than ever before," said Eric Grilly, President of Cirrus Aviation Services. "Race Week is the perfect moment to debut this program and introduce guests to Theos, with another exclusive non-member opportunity coming this New Year's Eve. We're thrilled to showcase how curated experiences, personalized service, and seamless travel—both in the air and on the ground—can redefine what private aviation means for our members."
