

Pinnacle Food Announces New Strategic Initiative to Expand its Smart Agriculture Innovation Platform

VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA, November 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Pinnacle Food Group Limited ("Pinnacle" or the "Company") today announced a strategic initiative to establish a bioengineering and testing laboratory. The Company is exploring applied bioengineering initiatives to further expand its smart agriculture innovation platform into bioengineering applications, supporting its future growth.

To support the lab's development, Pinnacle Food Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Pinnacle Food Group Limited, has entered into a consulting agreement with Bioboost Synbio Consulting Inc. ("Bioboost"), a leading British Columbia-based firm specializing in biotech lab setup and operational readiness. Under the agreement, Bioboost will provide end-to-end advisory services, including guidance on lab construction (aligned with regulatory standards for biosafety, chemical storage, and environmental compliance), equipment sourcing and installation, personnel recruitment, staff training, and post-construction operational audits.

"Today's announcement reflects the Company's commitment to evolving beyond traditional food industry boundaries and exploring potential applications of applied bioengineering that may support or enhance its smart agriculture innovation platform," said Jiulong You, CEO of the Company. "We are pleased to partner with Bioboost, whose specialized expertise will help our lab meets the high standards of safety, efficiency and regulatory compliance."
