

FAA Flight Groundings & SNAP Delays From Government Shutdown Sparks Action from CA Governor Candidate Sharifah Hardie

California Governor Candidate Sharifah Hardie urges volunteers to help neighbors amid FAA flight groundings and SNAP delays during historic shutdown

LONG BEACH, CA, UNITED STATES, November 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- California Governor candidate Sharifah Hardie is calling on Californians to take immediate action as the longest government shutdown in U.S. history now surpasses 35 days. Approximately 700,000 federal employees have been furloughed without pay, with another 700,000 working unpaid, leaving families, communities, and essential services at risk.

With the FAA preparing to ground more flights, residents could face canceled travel plans and disrupted holidays. SNAP benefit delays continue, leaving millions of California families uncertain about accessing food, particularly as the holidays approach. California's agriculture drives the nation's food supply, making the stakes critical.

Every hour counts. Families face SNAP delays, flights are grounded, and communities need immediate support. Californians must step up now”

Sharifah Hardie

“Real change doesn't wait for the government. Families face SNAP delays with no immediate update. Step up, check on neighbors, and donate to support volunteers delivering food and resources,” said Sharifah Hardie. “Now is the time for Californians to remember we are our neighbor's keeper. If we act together, we can protect our families, farms, and future.”

The initiative empowers residents to act independently, checking in on neighbors, seniors, and families who may not have enough food. Californians can volunteer, donate, or use a ready-to-go script to help neighbors facing food insecurity and SNAP benefit delays.

Supporting Volunteers and Independent Action

Hello,

My name is [Your Name], and I live in this neighborhood. SNAP benefits have been delayed, and there is still no update on when November or future benefits will arrive. I want to make sure everyone has enough food, especially with the holidays coming.

If you need help, I can:

Deliver groceries or meals

Share information about local food banks

Connect you with volunteers for ongoing support

We want to make sure no one goes without basic necessities. Please let me know if you or someone you know could use assistance.

“This initiative is about more than providing food; it’s about building community solidarity and trust,” Hardie said. “California is strongest when individuals take responsibility for one another. By stepping up, whether through volunteering, donating, or reaching out on your own, we ensure no one is left behind during SNAP delays, economic strain, or government shutdowns.”

The initiative complements Hardie’s broader campaign goals of food security, community empowerment, and grassroots solutions, encouraging Californians to act locally while systemic solutions are addressed at state and federal levels.
