-- Cityside Huntington Metro

Apartments today announced a major step forward in enhancing the resident experience with the introduction of expanded pet-friendly Apartments for rent in Washington, DC, featuring amenities and community initiatives designed to foster a more inclusive urban living environment. The update underscores the property's commitment to meeting the evolving needs of pet owners in the nation's capital.

Located near the Huntington Metro, Cityside combines modern city living with the comfort of home. The new developments include a designated on-site pet play area, pet-washing stations, and a partnership with local pet service providers for convenient grooming and walking services. These additions reflect a growing trend among Washington, DC, residents who seek lifestyle flexibility without compromising their pets' well-being.

Their enhanced pet-friendly program includes newly designated pet relief areas, upgraded walking paths, and the introduction of a community "Pet Social Hub," designed to foster engagement among pet owners. These updates come in response to growing demand for flexible, pet-accommodating housing options in urban centers.

The introduction of these features comes as part of a broader initiative to enhance sustainability, connectivity, and lifestyle integration across the property. Residents also benefit from proximity to public transportation, open green spaces, and pet-friendly walking trails—further positioning Cityside as a leader in modern multifamily living.

The development not only highlights the changing expectations of renters but also reinforces Cityside's focus on community-driven living and modern apartment standards.
