COMO, CO, ITALY, November 7, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award, a highly prestigious and well-recognized award in the field of home appliance design, has announced Kalerm Model Z by Nicola Zanetti and Federico Bosque as the Silver Winner in the Home Appliances Design category. This award celebrates the exceptional design and innovation of Kalerm Model Z, acknowledging its significant contribution to the advancement of the home appliance industry.

The recognition of Kalerm Model Z by the A' Home Appliances Design Award highlights the design's relevance to current trends and user needs within the industry. By aligning with and advancing industry standards and practices, this innovative coffee machine offers practical benefits for users, showcasing its utility and forward-thinking approach.

Kalerm Model Z stands out in the market with its bold, unconventional design that breaks away from traditional coffee machine aesthetics. The sleek, angular structure, combined with premium metallic finishes and dynamic LED accents, gives it a futuristic, high-tech appeal. The design prioritizes user experience, featuring a large touch display for easy recipe selection and customization, a self-adjusting coffee spout, and professional-grade components for a complete coffee-making experience.

The Silver A' Design Award recognition for Kalerm Model Z serves as motivation for Nicola Zanetti and Federico Bosque to continue pushing the boundaries of design and innovation in future projects. This achievement inspires the team to further explore unconventional aesthetics and cutting-edge functionality, driving the evolution of the home appliance industry.
