JEDDAH, AL MOHAMMEDIA, SAUDI ARABIA, November 10, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Fouad Seddiki, Algerian Businessman, Bridging American Energy Expertise with Algerian Ambition

I lead projects that combine innovation, expertise, and strategy to create lasting impact in Algeria's energy sector.”

Fouad SEDDIKI

In a rapidly evolving global energy landscape, Fouad Seddiki stands out as an Algerian entrepreneur who believes that local competencies can thrive internationally when guided by a global mindset and driven by purpose.

Through his company, FS ENERGY SERVICE LLC, registered in Wyoming, USA, Seddiki leads an ambitious initiative aimed at bridging American expertise and technologies with emerging markets in the Arab world — particularly Algeria, which he describes as "the motherland and the birthplace of ambition."

"Growing up in Algeria taught me the value of hard work, while my experience with leading energy companies taught me that success is built on discipline and purpose,"

— Fouad Seddiki, Founder & CEO, FS ENERGY SERVICE LLC

Before establishing his company, Seddiki gained extensive field experience with some of the world's leading energy corporations, including QatarEnergy (Qatar), Saudi Aramco (Kingdom of Saudi Arabia), ADNOC (United Arab Emirates), and Occidental Oman (Oman) — contributing to major projects in drilling operations, field services, and industrial operations.

These international experiences shaped his entrepreneurial vision: to merge Gulf discipline and American technical excellence with the Algerian spirit of resilience and innovation — creating a model of energy services built on professionalism, efficiency, and long-term value.

"Today, as the founder of FS Energy Service, I am committed to creating lasting value through innovation, sustainability, and meaningful partnerships — while transferring technical knowledge and industry expertise to help shape a new generation of highly competent Algerian professionals,"

— Fouad Seddiki

For Seddiki, Algeria is more than a market — it is a mission and a source of identity. His long-term strategic vision focuses on building partnerships that empower Algerian competencies and represent the country abroad — across Africa, the Gulf region, and South America — highlighting the nation's capacity for excellence and leadership in the energy and industrial sectors.

"My strategic vision is to make Algeria a source of competencies, not merely a consumer of technology. We have the minds and the will — we simply need to connect them to the world,"

— Fouad Seddiki
