Springfree Trampoline is teaming up with the Texas Legends to give away an exclusive trampoline bundle that includes a basketball hoop and ladder.

to families at every Legends game,” said Texas Legends President Malcolm Farmer. “This partnership adds another exciting layer for our fans and showcases our continued commitment to community-first engagement.”

The Springfree 8ft x 11ft Medium Oval Trampoline is available online at Sam’s Club, though the giveaway bundle’s included accessories and professional installation are exclusive to this promotion.

The Medium Oval Trampoline is the ideal size for urban yards or spaces that are longer than wide.

The oval-shaped design is particularly beneficial for young jumpers looking to practice their moves (or slam dunks!) on a longer jumping surface.

Like all Springfree Trampolines, the Medium Oval Trampoline features the signature springless design, a flexible enclosure system, a lowered frame, and a mat with no hard edges – all of which help eliminate 90% of product-related injuries.

Also included is a 10-year warranty on all parts, meaning it’s built to last for a decade or more in all conditions and climates.

“Springfree is thrilled to partner with the Texas Legends and give away an exclusive trampoline bundle to a family in our local community that values active play and time together,” said Amy McIntee, Chief Operating Officer at goba Sports Group, the parent company of Springfree Trampoline.

“Both of our organizations share a commitment to community engagement and promoting healthy lifestyles through joyful play — and this partnership brings that to life in a fun and exciting way.”
