Mahnke Consulting offers consulting support in two essential areas: DCAA-compliant accounting system design and evaluation, and consult-based development strategy for cost proposals. The firm does not perform accounting on behalf of clients. Instead, it advises internal teams on how to structure systems, organize costs, document processes, and position data to align with Federal Acquisition Regulations and Government audit expectations.

The firm's approach ensures companies receive informed perspectives on general ledger structures, indirect cost treatment, pricing frameworks, supporting documentation, and internal controls—without outsourcing responsibility for execution. This model strengthens long-term operational independence while increasing readiness for audits, submissions, and cost proposal evaluations.

Mahnke Consulting works with small businesses, prime contractors, subcontractors, and grantees seeking clarity, structure, and informed direction in Government contract accounting compliance and proposal costing.

More information about its consult-led services, including advisory support for a DCAA-
