This list provides homebuyers with valuable insights into the safety and livability of various neighborhoods across Idaho's cities.

BOISE, ID, UNITED STATES, November 11, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Houzeo, America's best home buying and selling website, is proud to announce the launch of its "Safest Places to Live" landing pages. The list highlights the top cities in Idaho with the lowest violent and property crime rates, providing homebuyers with objective insights on their house-hunting journey.

The core strength of Houzeo's ranking methodology is its commitment to transparency. Unlike reports that rely on complex formulas, Houzeo uses only verified crime data from the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) and the National Incident-Based Reporting System (NIBRS). Houzeo combines these critical metrics with user-generated feedback and trusted public data to create an all-encompassing view of each location's safety score.

According to Houzeo, Rexburg is the safest city in Idaho, with a high safety score of 96 out of 100. Home to Brigham Young University-Idaho, this city has one of the lowest crime rates in the state. With a median home price of $319,500, Rexburg offers great value for families, students, and professionals looking for a safe, vibrant small-city atmosphere. Neighborhoods like Cedar Butte, Copper Heights, and Crest Haven provide secure environments with strong education options. However, this safety comes with a college-town energy that keeps the community active year-round. Here are the rankings of the Safest places to live in Idaho.
