Live. Learn. Lead. Your future in STEM starts here—apply by Feb. 15 to join South Carolina’s top public science & math high school.

HARTSVILLE, SC, UNITED STATES,
November 12, 2025 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- The South Carolina Governor’s School for Science & Mathematics (GSSM), a nationally ranked public residential high school specializing in advanced STEM education, is now accepting applications for the Class of 2028. The priority deadline for admission is February 15, 2026.

GSSM offers motivated high school students from across South Carolina the opportunity to live and learn in a community that values innovation, collaboration, and curiosity. Through advanced coursework, hands-on research, and mentorship opportunities, students explore their potential and prepare for success in college and beyond.

“I’m continually inspired by the drive and curiosity of the students who apply to our school,” said Jenifer L. Blair, Ed.D., vice president for enrollment management. “Here, students engage in hands-on projects, work with dedicated teachers and mentors, and gain experiences that prepare them for college and for making a meaningful impact in the world. If you’re looking for a place where you can be both inspired and encouraged to grow, I invite you to apply for admission. We can’t wait to see how you’ll contribute to the future of STEM.”

Students walk together on the campus of the South Carolina Governor’s School for Science & Mathematics in Hartsville, where motivated learners from across the state live, study, and explore their passion for STEM.
