Fleet management gets a lot easier when your credit card data flows automatically. No more chasing fuel receipts or wondering where your money went with DATABASICS Expense.

“Field teams shouldn’t be bogged down with paperwork,” said Marcel Syriani, COO/CTO of DATABASICS. “By combining WEX’s industry-leading payment solutions with our expense automation, organizations gain real-time visibility, compliance, and faster financial reconciliation. Technicians and drivers stay focused on the job, while finance teams get clean, audit-ready data.”

Freedom to choose your card. Power to manage every expense with DATABASICS. This integration reinforces DATABASICS’s core promise: customers aren’t locked into rigid card programs. Whether using WEX Cards, Visa®, Mastercard®, or the DATABASICS Visa® Commercial Card, organizations have the flexibility to choose what works best for them, while still managing all expenses in one place.

How It Works

WEX Card transactions flow directly into DATABASICS Expense.

Receipts are automatically matched using AI.

Work orders and GL codes are applied instantly.

Expense reports are created and routed for approval, no forms, no delays.

Key Benefits for WEX Customers

No manual data entry: transactions and receipts are linked automatically.

Real-time visibility into daily spend for faster decision-making.

Accurate coding ensures costs are billed back correctly and internal tracking stays compliant.

By combining WEX's industry-leading payment solutions with our expense automation, organizations gain real-time visibility, compliance, and faster financial reconciliation."

Marcel Syriani

Audit-ready documentation for every expense.

"Automating fuel and fleet expenses has an immediate impact," added Syriani. "Our customers report processing time cut by up to 75% and significantly improved accuracy. With WEX, we're bringing that efficiency to an even larger set of organizations."
