

Goldgenie Unveils the 24K Gold iPhone 17 Pro & Pro Max Carbon Range — Where Luxury Meets Next-Generation Craftsmanship

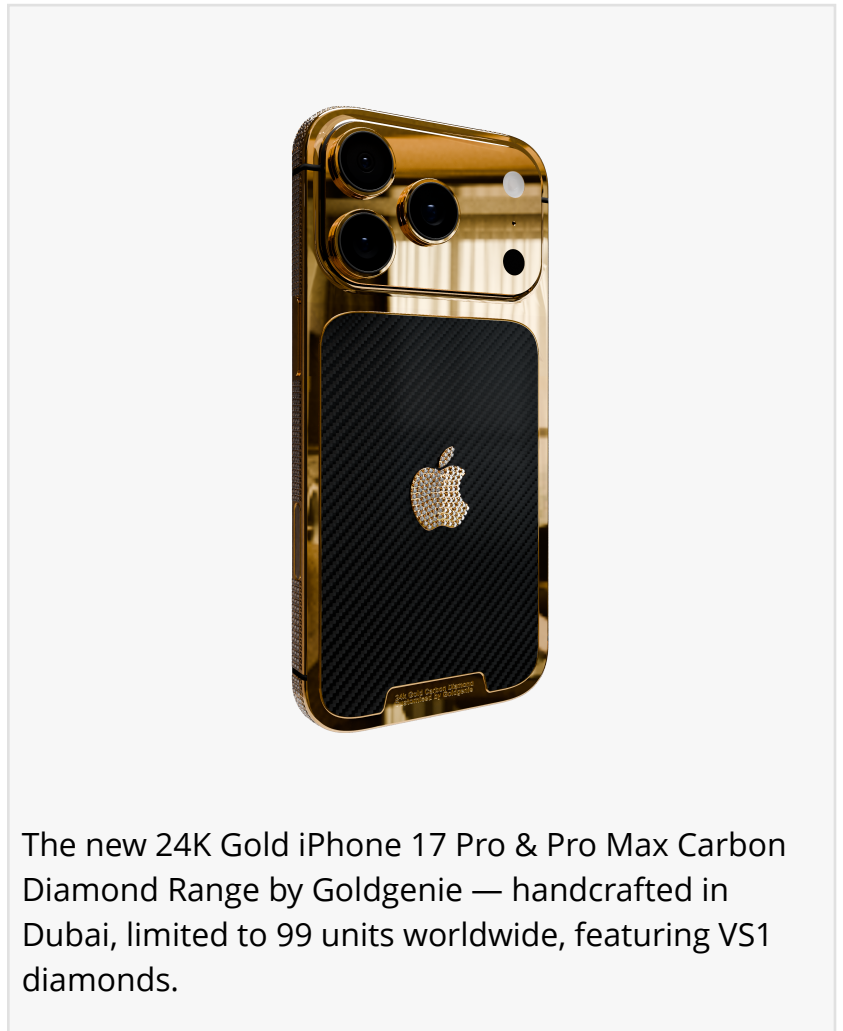

Goldgenie, first to customise the iPhone in 24K gold, unveils its Carbon Diamond Collection — limited to 99 worldwide and handcrafted in Dubai.

DUBAI, MEYDAN, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, November 13, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Goldgenie L.L.C, the award-winning luxury customisation house founded in 1995 in London and established in Dubai in 2015 to serve a growing base of high-net-worth clientele, today announced the global launch of its 24K Gold iPhone 17 Pro & Pro Max Carbon Range — a collection redefining the fusion of technology, design, and fine craftsmanship.

Building on its legacy as the first company in the world to customise the Apple iPhone in real 24-karat gold in 2007, Goldgenie's new Carbon Series introduces an aerospace-grade carbon-fibre shell available in 24K Gold, Rose Gold, and Platinum. Each masterpiece is handcrafted by Goldgenie's artisans in Dubai and backed by a lifetime finish warranty.

The launch comes amid a global resurgence in the luxury-tech market, with affluent consumers seeking exclusive craftsmanship that merges innovation and artistry. According to Deloitte's 2025 Luxury Trends Report, bespoke technology and personalised luxury goods continue to outperform traditional categories.

Carbon Diamond Edition — Limited to 99 Units Worldwide

The new 24K Gold iPhone 17 Pro & Pro Max Carbon Diamond Range by Goldgenie — handcrafted in Dubai, limited to 99 units worldwide, featuring VS1 diamonds.

At the pinnacle of the collection stands the Carbon Diamond Edition, featuring VS1-certified diamonds handset into both the Apple logo and bezel.

Each device is individually numbered, and only 99 units of each metal finish will ever be produced.

Prices start from USD $4,000 for the 24K Gold Carbon Edition, rising to USD $17,000 for the Carbon Diamond Edition featuring VS1 diamond embellishments.

Every device is presented in Goldgenie's signature luxury packaging with certification and lifetime warranty.

From the Nokia 8800 to the iPhone 17 — A Heritage of Innovation

Founded in 1995 in London, Goldgenie began as a pioneer in luxury customisation and first captured international attention after gold-plating the legendary Nokia 8800 in the early 2000s — transforming an everyday mobile phone into a global status symbol.

In 2007, Goldgenie became the first company in the world to customise the Apple iPhone in real 24-karat gold, setting

The 24K Gold iPhone 17 Carbon Range continues that legacy, combining strength, precision, and sustainable luxury through advanced materials and timeless craftsmanship.

“When we gold-plated the first iPhone in 2007, it was about redefining how people experience technology,” said Laban Roomes, Founder of Goldgenie. “Nearly two decades later, the Carbon Range continues that story — merging aerospace materials with artistry and transforming everyday devices into collectible heirlooms.”

“Each piece we create is designed to be a legacy item,” added a Goldgenie spokesperson. “We’re not following trends — we’re setting them.”

Global Availability & Franchise Network

Each customised iPhone 17 Pro and Pro Max is individually numbered and delivered worldwide within 7 days via DHL Express.

Orders are available directly from Goldgenie.com or through the company’s official franchise partners operating under its international Master Franchise Network.

“Owning a Goldgenie device is not just about luxury — it’s about legacy,” added a spokesperson from the Dubai headquarters. “Every device is handcrafted, authenticated, and delivered with the prestige our clients expect.”

Global Impact and Recognition

With exclusive franchises expanding across the Middle East, Europe, Asia, and North America, Goldgenie’s global footprint continues to grow. The company’s creations have been showcased by international media and at award shows, reinforcing its reputation as a leader in luxury innovation.
