

TeleVoIPs Announces Full Verizon Network Support for Branded Caller ID

Now Available on Verizon and T-Mobile Networks!

TAMPA, FL, UNITED STATES, November 13, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ --

TeleVoIPs is thrilled to announce that Verizon's wireless network now fully supports Branded Caller ID, marking a major milestone in helping businesses connect with customers more effectively and securely.

TeleVoIPs customers can now display their verified business name, logo, and call reason on mobile devices when calling Verizon subscribers. With branded identity displayed alongside the call, businesses can stand out from spam and robocalls, ensuring their important calls are recognized, trusted, and answered.

Branded Caller ID: A Smarter Way to Build Trust

Branded Caller ID, powered by TeleVoIPs, enhances credibility, consistency, and customer confidence while improving answer rates for sales, service, and support teams. When paired with STIR/SHAKEN call authentication, AI-powered call summaries, and CRM integrations, TeleVoIPs continues to lead the industry in modern, transparent, and customer-first communication solutions.

Why It Matters

Branded Caller ID

TeleVoIPs - Reliable Business Communication

Builds trust: Verified business calls stand out from spam and scams.

Boosts answer rates: Customers are more likely to answer calls they recognize.

Enhances brand consistency and customer confidence: Display your business name, logo, and reason for calling exactly as intended.

Available to more users: Verizon and T-Mobile now support Branded Caller ID.

"With Verizon's full support, we're thrilled to expand branded calling coverage nationwide," said Grant Baxley, CEO at TeleVoIPs. "This gives our customers another powerful way to ensure their calls are trusted, recognized, and answered."
