

Isabel Marcheselli releases 'Josefina (Classitronica Mix)': A Dynamic Soundtrack for Fashion Lovers, Doers, and Creators

WESTFIELD, MA, UNITED STATES, November 17, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Acclaimed American singer-songwriter Isabel Marcheselli is once again pushing creative boundaries with her recent genre-bending release of "Josefina (Classitronica Mix)." This instrumental tour de force is a vibrant anthem for fashionistas, fashion DJs, and fashion designers, and an urgent call to action for anyone ready to chase their aspirations. It weaves together the elegance of classical music, the ambient and dynamic soundscapes of electronic music, and the emotive power of the violin

"Josefina (Classitronica Mix)" isn't just a track; it's a meticulously crafted sonic story rooted in Marcheselli's formative years. The daughter of a creative collaborator to iconic New York City fashion designers, Isabel experienced the electrifying energy of runway shows firsthand as a child. With this bold reinterpretation of her 2008 hit theme, "Josefina," Marcheselli masterfully recaptures that exhilarating runway spirit of fashion show music. She envisions the track as a powerful "call to action" for listeners navigating the "runway of their lives," offering a compelling musical response to Shakespeare's timeless declaration that "all the world's a stage."

From Pandemic-Era Vision to "Classitronica" Masterpiece

Marcheselli dedicated years of focused effort during the pandemic to bring this long-held vision to life. This new recording dramatically diverges from the vocal version of "Josefina," as heard in "Josefina (Remix)," in that the virtuosic violin rendition of the "Josefina" melody is played over a lush orchestration, seamlessly fused with a driving electronic drum track. The sound is further enriched by a medley of live instrumentation, including bass, piano, percussion, and guitar, creating a vibrant tapestry of sound that is exhilarating, irresistible, and full of joie de vivre.

This isn't Marcheselli's first foray into instrumental storytelling. In 2023, her original song "Wander" captivated audiences as the instrumental soundtrack for the opening and closing credits of the multi-award-winning short film IN COD WE TRUST, directed by Seonghoon Eric Park and Raphael Edwards, a film that powerfully captures the joys and struggles of fishermen in Gloucester, Massachusetts.

An Anthem for Brave Hearts

Ultimately, Marcheselli hopes "Josefina (Classitronica Mix)" will serve as a potent source of energy and inspiration, empowering listeners to pursue their dreams, especially during these challenging times.

"It's music for when you're about to do something really brave in life toward making your dreams a reality," says Marcheselli, a distinguished graduate of Cornell University who further honed her musical talents, including composition, at Mannes School of Music and Hunter College.

"Josefina (Classitronica Mix)" is now available on major streaming platforms. Fans can also anticipate more vocal and instrumental releases from Isabel Marcheselli in the future.
