Held each year around Veterans Day, Whiskey for Warriors is a networking and fundraising event that brings together supporters to celebrate veterans and recognize the incredible work of nonprofit partners, such as the Marine Corps Scholarship Foundation, Dog Tag Inc., Stay in Step, and Merging Vets & Players.

"Partnering with True North allows us to extend our mission of impact into spaces that matter deeply to our veterans and their families," said Greg Parsons, CEO of CAVU Securities. "Whiskey for Warriors is a chance to honor service, highlight stories of resilience, and ensure that organizations making a difference in veterans' lives get the resources they need to thrive."

The True North Foundation promotes and supports veteran initiatives nationwide, partnering closely with veteran nonprofits that provide education, employment, adaptive sports, and rehabilitation programs for veterans and their families. Veterans and families whose lives have been transformed by these organizations spoke at the event.

This year's event speaker, True North Foundation's adaptive athlete and Army Green Beret veteran, Luke Kittel, will soon become the first ever amputee to compete in the extreme triathlon in Chile, called Patagonman, which he will be competing in this December. All proceeds from this year's Whiskey for Warriors event support Luke in reaching his fundraising goal.

"We're thrilled to partner with CAVU on this year's Whiskey for Warriors," said Riley Gregoire of True North Foundation. "This gathering may be small and intimate, but the impact is far-reaching."
