

InAmerica Education Officially Designated as an SSAT Testing Center, Expanding Access for Students and Families

InAmerica is now an official SSAT test center, providing expert guidance for families navigating the private school admissions process.

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, November 14, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- InAmerica Education, a leading international education consultancy specializing in U.S. K-12 and higher education admissions, is proud to announce its official registration as an SSAT (Secondary School Admission Test) testing center. This milestone reflects InAmerica's continued commitment to enhancing educational access and supporting families throughout every stage of the admissions process.

The SSAT, administered by the Enrollment Management Association (EMA), of which InAmerica is a part, is a standardized exam used by hundreds of top private and independent schools in the United States and around the world. It serves as a critical benchmark for student readiness and competitiveness in the application process, assessing verbal, quantitative, and reading skills.

As an officially registered SSAT test site, InAmerica will now offer students the convenience of completing this important assessment in a familiar, secure, and professionally managed environment. This designation also enables InAmerica to support students more holistically, ensuring not just strong application materials and academic profiles, but also smooth and well-planned test logistics.

"Becoming an SSAT test center is a natural extension of the work we already do," said Cindy Gong, partner at InAmerica. "We understand how high-stakes testing can be stressful for students and their families, and we're proud to offer a testing environment that feels safe, supportive, and accessible."

The benefits of this new status are far-reaching. Students will have more flexible options for scheduling, fewer travel demands, and direct access to a test location operated by a team that is deeply familiar with the admissions process. Families working with InAmerica will now receive end-to-end guidance, including test registration assistance, preparation planning, and score strategy discussions, all in one place.

With over a decade of experience, InAmerica has established a reputation for its thoughtful leadership, strategic planning, and high success rates across competitive school admissions. This new development reaffirms the organization's role as a trusted partner for families navigating complex academic pathways.
