Our leaders set the tone.
They shape our culture.
They are the reason
Guardian continues to grow.”

Tom Tedford

Held each year, the Guardian Fleet Services Leadership Conference serves as a cornerstone for leadership development within the organization. The agenda focuses on strategic planning, collaborative learning, skill development, and reinforcing Guardian's dedication to customer service, safety, and operational excellence.

“At Guardian Fleet Services, our future success depends on the strength of our people,” said Tom Tedford, Chief Executive Officer of Guardian Fleet Services. “When we invest in the development of our leaders, we are not only improving our company internally — we are becoming better partners to our vendors, our customers, and the communities we serve. Strong leadership translates to stronger communication, sharper decision-making, and a higher level of service across every roadway and every branch.”

Throughout the conference, attendees participate in leadership development discussions, cross-functional collaboration, and shared learning designed to enhance the way Guardian teams lead, communicate, and support one another. By investing in leadership, the company strengthens every layer of its operations — from safety and customer service to efficiency and responsiveness.

“We recognize that equipment, technology, and scale matter — but they mean nothing without strong leaders behind them,” Tedford continued. “Our leaders set the tone. They shape our culture. They are the reason Guardian continues to grow.”

Guardian also acknowledged the support of its sponsor partners, whose participation helps make the event possible. Sponsors are represented across several tiers: Guardian Sponsor, Highway Sponsors, Fleet Sponsors, Transport Sponsors, and Heavy-Duty Sponsors.
