

Friends For Life Homecare Unveils 'Ways To Give, Countless Ways To Care' Community-Wide Initiative

LONG ISLAND, NY, UNITED STATES,
November 19, 2025 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Friends for Life Homecare, a leading provider of compassionate, client-focused home care services across Long Island and the five boroughs, expands their community initiatives that invite every neighbor to make a lasting, loving difference.

The program is designed to expand support for aging adults and their families through meaningful opportunities to contribute—whether through volunteerism, companionship outreach, or charitable giving. As the demand for senior home care continues to rise, Friends for Life is doubling down on its mission to ensure that every senior has access to the dignity, support, and dedicated care they deserve.

“Caring for our seniors is a responsibility we all share,” said Amy Recco, Owner of Friends for Life Homecare. “With this initiative, we’re empowering our community to make a difference in ways both big and small. There are truly countless ways to show you care.”

The “Ways to Give, Countless Ways to Care” initiative offers multiple options to participate:

Feed a Senior – Volunteers can choose to send a nutritious, packaged meal to a senior. Call us today to be assigned to your senior.

Donation Support – Contributions help provide essential supplies, safety items, and any quality-of-life enhancements for seniors in need. Donate on our website at friendsforlifeseniorsfoundation.org or drop off items at one of our four locations.

Holiday & Seasonal Drives – From warm winter kits to special curated packages, neighbors can help brighten a senior's day.

Friends for Life Homecare is committed to serving seniors. "We believe that care goes beyond tasks — it's about connection," added Emily Recco. "Together, our community can ensure every senior feels valued, supported, and truly at home, because there are countless ways to demonstrate love and compassion."
