critical bottleneck by providing scalable, high-efficiency power processing during a moment of explosive demand. We're proud to back a team that's already proving its hardware in commercial, defense, and NASA programs and is poised to become a cornerstone of the space economy," said John Francis, Partner at Stout Street Capital.

About CisLunar Industries

CisLunar Industries builds scalable intelligent hardware that transforms power to run space. Their Electronic Power Intelligent Conversion (EPIC™) product line for power processing, including hardware and software, cuts customer lead times and non-recurring engineering costs, increases resiliency and efficiency, and leaves more room on the spacecraft for expanded mission capability. They design for mass manufacturing and know high power, unregulated inputs, and ultra-high voltage and current, supporting electric propulsion, directed energy, and high-power infrastructure.

About Stout Street Capital

Stout Street Capital is a Denver-based seed-stage fund that seeks to invest in early-stage companies focused on enabling technologies such as AI, Quantum, Robotics, advanced manufacturing and automation, and their applications in core sectors such as Health, Energy, and Aerospace. The firm has funded 90+ startups as of 2025.
