This recognition reflects the intentional efforts of our team to foster a culture where everyone feels supported, valued and empowered to thrive—both personally and professionally.”

Diana Bittle, COO of American Fidelity

To determine the Best Workplaces for Parents, Great Place To Work analyzed the survey responses of over 635,000 employees with parenting responsibilities who work for Great Place To Work Certified™ companies.

“We recognize that being a working parent comes with unique challenges, and we’re committed to supporting our Colleagues as they navigate the demands of both work and family life,” said Diana Bittle, COO of American Fidelity.

feels supported, valued and empowered to thrive—both personally and professionally. We're proud to continue building a workplace that truly is a Great Place to Work for All."

The Best Workplaces for Parents list is highly competitive. Great Place To Work, the global authority on workplace culture, determines its lists using its proprietary For All™ Methodology to evaluate and certify thousands of organizations in America's largest ongoing annual workforce study, based on over 1.3 million survey responses and data from companies representing more than 8.2 million employees this year alone.

In addition to employee feedback, Great Place To Work collected company data on industry, revenue, employee demographics, parental leave, adoption benefits, flexible scheduling and more. Winning companies were those that offered the most positive outcomes for working parents regardless of job role, race, gender, sexual orientation, work status or other demographic identifiers.

"Congratulations to the Fortune Best Workplaces for Parents," said Michael C. Bush, CEO of Great Place To Work®. "The companies on this list are committed to solving the unique challenges facing their workers and have found creative ways to ensure working parents can balance family responsibilities with a rewarding career."
