

Wuhan University Science Park by Yang Ding Wins Silver in A' Interior Design Awards

Yang Ding's Innovative Exhibition Hall Design Recognized with Prestigious A' Design Award in Interior Space and Exhibition Design Category

COMO, CO, ICELAND, November 19, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award, one of the world's most respected design competitions, has announced Yang Ding as a Silver winner in the Interior Space and Exhibition Design category for the exceptional work, "Wuhan University Science Park." This prestigious recognition highlights the significance of Yang Ding's innovative exhibition hall design within the interior design industry.

The award-winning design of Wuhan University Science Park showcases the relevance of creative and functional interior spaces in today's rapidly evolving exhibition industry. By seamlessly integrating landscape elements and utilizing space as a touchpoint for display and publicity, Yang Ding's design aligns with current trends and advances industry standards, offering practical benefits for visitors and stakeholders alike.

Inspired by the dynamic nature of water, Yang Ding's exhibition hall design incorporates natural forms and constructs a space that focuses on creating an immersive experience for visitors. The effective use of light, combined with the integration of landscape elements, injects vitality into the space, setting it apart from conventional designs. The relationship between curved surfaces, uniform material colors, and strategically placed landscape features conveys spatial emotions in a free-flowing manner.

This well-deserved recognition from the A' Interior Design Awards serves as a testament to Yang
