The market size for halal ingredients has been consistently expanding over the recent years.

“

The Business Research Company's Latest Report Explores Market Driver, Trends, Regional Insights - Market Sizing & Forecasts Through 2034”

The Business Research Company

Expected to increase from $344.52 billion in 2024 to $353.61 billion in 2025, the compound annual growth rate (CAGR) sits at 2.6%. Reasons for this growth during the historic period include severe weather changes, strict emission regulations, infrastructure advancements, consumer emphasis on energy efficiency, crude oil price variations, and the incorporation of renewable energy.

Expectations are high for a consistent expansion in the halal ingredients market in the coming years, with projections forecasting it will rise to ""$409.44 billion in 2029 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 3.7%. This growth in the predictive timeframe can be linked to an increase in biofuel demand, a concentrated effort towards carbon footprint reduction, intelligent heating systems, government-imposed fuel quality standards, and an uptick in residential construction. Emission reduction technologies, enhancements in anti-gelling and cold-flow, advanced developments in additive formulations, the incorporation of artificial intelligence, and strategic partnerships and tie-ups, are the significant trends that will influence the market in the forecast period.

What Are The Major Factors Driving The Halal Ingredients Global Market Growth?

The escalating desire for halal processed foods and drinks is projected to fuel the expansion of the halal ingredient market. Companies that comprise the food and beverage industry transform raw farm products into packaged and prepared goods for consumers, ensuring the delivery of food and drinks. The use of halal ingredients imparts a guarantee of health, cleanliness, purity, and safety, assuring superior quality products and sparking an increase in halal ingredient demand. As an example, a US-wide consumer insights poll in September 2022 by IFANCA, a US non-profit organization dedicated to halal certification and promotion, found that out of 1,000 nationally representative U.S adults, 44% perceived halal-certified foods as more humane, 42% as fresher and 41% healthier than their non-halal counterparts. Hence, the burgeoning demand for halal processed food and beverages is bolstering the growth of the halal ingredients market.
