What Are The Core Growth Drivers Shaping The Future Of The Muscle Relaxant Drugs Market?

The muscle relaxant drugs market is set to benefit from a growing elderly population. This refers to individuals aged 65 years or older who have a higher tendency to experience musculoskeletal disorders. Such conditions can be effectively treated with muscle relaxant drugs, which offer sedative effects and pain relief. As per the World Health Organization's estimates in October 2022, the Switzerland-based international public health organization, the population of people aged 60 years and over is expected to surge from 1 billion in 2020 to 1.4 billion by 2022. Furthermore, by 2030, one in every six individuals worldwide will be over 60 years old. All things considered, this increase in the elderly population worldwide fuels the need for muscle relaxant drugs.

Which Companies Are Currently Leading In The Muscle Relaxant Drugs Market?

Major players in the Muscle Relaxant Drugs include:

- Pfizer Inc.
- Ipsen Pharma SA
- Teijin Limited
- Par Pharmaceutical Companies Inc.
- Orient Pharma Co. Ltd.

What Are The Top Trends In The Muscle Relaxant Drugs Industry?

In the muscle relaxant drug market, the leading trend is product innovations. Top firms in the market are producing unique drugs for specific medical uses, such as generic muscle relaxant drugs, muscle relaxants for animals, and drugs with flexible and customized dosing to maintain their market position. For example, in June 2022, Amneal Pharmaceuticals Inc., an integrated specialty pharmaceutical firm based in the US, introduced LYVISPAH, a baclofen oral granule (5, 10, and 20 mg) specialized product that received approval from the US Food and Drug Administration to treat spasticity seen in multiple sclerosis and other spinal cord disorders. LYVISPAH is flexible and offers customized dosing with 5 mg, 10 mg, and 20 mg single-dose packets of granules for treating muscle stiffness, spasms, and pain in multiple sclerosis patients. These fast-dissolving flavored granules are an alternative for patients with spasticity who struggle to swallow pills. The product can be taken directly into the mouth with or without water, combined with liquids or food, or via an enteral feeding tube.
