Allied Market Research

report published by Allied Market Research, the global home office furniture market generated $3.03 billion in 2020, and is expected to reach $7.61 billion by 2030, witnessing at a CAGR of 8.8% from 2021 to 2030. The report offers a detailed analysis of changing market dynamics, key investment pockets, top segments, value chain, regional scenario, and competitive landscape.

Surge in entrepreneurship and work from home, growth in urbanization, and rise in inclination of customers toward multi-function furniture drive the growth of the global home office furniture market. However, increase in the cost of raw material and environmental restriction related to deforestation hinder the market growth. On the other hand, development of eco-friendly raw material and surge in e-commerce sales present new opportunities in the coming years.

Covid-19 Scenario:

The outbreak of covid-19 impacted the manufacturing processes and supply chain management during the initial phase. Also, consumer discretionary spending has been minimized, and businesses have noticed a behavioral shift toward safer and more durable products. The trend of work from home, however, has supported the market positively. At the same time, the initiatives for relaxing the regulations by the government bodies have helped the manufacturers and market players to retain their sale structures.

The report offers detailed segmentation of the global home office furniture market based on product type, material type, price range, distribution channel, and region.
