The launch is part of "Mallorca Distillery's" wider strategy to strengthen its direct-to-consumer presence in key markets, making it easier for UK consumers to access the brand's Mallorcan-crafted, organic spirits outside of their time on the island.

“Over the years, so many UK visitors have discovered

PALMA GIN in Mallorca, and asked how they can enjoy our spirits back home,” said Byron Holland, co-founder of Mallorca Distillery. “With our new UK logistics in place, we can finally say: we'll bring Mallorca to your doorstep — reliably, sustainably and year-round.”

Through the UK online store, customers will be able to purchase a curated selection of PALMA spirits — including PALMA Organic Gin and other core expressions, with seasonal releases and gift options planned. The new logistics solution has been designed to support efficient, compliant shipping while aligning with the distillery's commitment to sustainability.
