Local Leadership, Local Impact

Rob Taylor, a Des Moines-based EOS Implementer, has worked with dozens of Iowa businesses to help them get everything they want from their entrepreneurial journey. Partnering with him is Shellie Shultz, a seasoned Fractional Integrator who has guided multiple leadership teams to clarity and execution. Together, Rob and Shellie are bringing ENRG’s proven chapter model to Central Iowa.

“Des Moines has a thriving entrepreneurial community, and many of these leaders are already running on EOS,” said Rob Taylor.

“This chapter gives them a space to connect, learn from one another, and hold each other accountable in a way that strengthens not just their businesses, but the entire community.”

How the Chapter Works

*Monthly meetings provide education, collaboration, and accountability for business leaders.

*Proven framework follows ENRG's national model: educate, identify-discuss-solve (IDS), collaborate, connect, and commit.

*Help-first culture ensures members leave every meeting with actionable ideas and a stronger network of peers.
