

Alcott Global Unveils Initial Speaker Lineup for Makers & Movers 2026 in Zürich

Alcott Global announcing the next edition of its flagship event, Makers & Movers, scheduled for April 22-23, 2026, at The Dolder Grand in Zürich.

ZURICH, SWITZERLAND, December 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Alcott Global has officially announced the next edition of its flagship event, Makers & Movers, scheduled for April 22-23, 2026, at The Dolder Grand in Zürich.

The graphic displays the event details and speaker lineup. On the left, a purple box contains the event title 'MAKERS & MOVERS' with the tagline 'CONNECT COLLABORATE INNOVATE' and the subtitle 'Bringing together C-level executives from multinational companies to shape the future of business value creation.' Below this, it specifies the location 'The Dolder Grand, Zürich, Switzerland' and the dates '22-23 APRIL 2026' next to a 'ZÜRICH' logo. To the right, six speaker portraits are arranged in a 3x2 grid, each with a 'SPEAKER' label and their names and titles.

Makers & Movers 2026 - Speakers

The event is set to convene more than 120 C-level executives from global enterprises to discuss the evolving landscape of operations, business models, and global value chains. Themed “The Next Industrial Era: Value Chains in a Time of Geopolitics, Technology, and Global Transformation,” Makers & Movers 2026 will explore the strategic levers reshaping industries worldwide.

“

Supply chains are changing faster than we can predict. Makers & Movers 2026 gathers leaders to challenge ideas and explore the questions that matter most.”

Radu Palamariu, Group CEO, Alcott Global

The first confirmed speakers are leaders with extensive hands-on experience across the supply chain. These executives are actively navigating a complex and uncertain environment and will share the insights, lessons, and emerging perspectives they are seeing in their work today, contributing to an open discussion on the trends shaping the next chapter of the industry.

Confirmed speakers include:

- Jim Hagemann Snabe, Chairman of Siemens, Board

Member of Temasek, and Member of the World Economic Forum Board of Trustees

- Cliff Henson, Corporate Vice President, Cloud Supply Chain and Engineering, Microsoft

- Max Chu, Chief Sourcing and Supply Chain Officer, Foxconn

- Damien Decouvelaere, Global Supply Chain Officer, L'Oréal Groupe

- Feiyu Xu, Board of Directors, Airbus, Siemens Energy, Chain IQ, ZF

- Massimo Andolina, President Region Europe, Philip Morris International

Several speakers are recent honorees of the Leaders in Supply Chain Awards, and will share case studies and practical insights from real-world transformation initiatives.

The 2026 agenda will focus on three macro forces:

1. Geopolitical volatility and its impact on sourcing, manufacturing, and distribution
2. Technological disruption, with AI as a driver of transformation and advantage
3. Industry 5.0, emphasizing a more human-centric, innovation-led leadership model

Described by organizers as a “strategic convening platform,” the event will feature exclusive roundtables, private networking sessions, and cross-sector panels tailored to decision-makers across technology, consumer goods, industrials, and logistics. Attendees collectively represent companies with a combined global spend of over $500 billion.

“The supply chain world is evolving faster than any of us can predict. Makers & Movers 2026 is about bringing together people who challenge each other and explore the questions that matter most. No one has all the answers, but together, we can shape better ones.” — Radu Palamariu, Group CEO, Alcott Global.

Official sponsors for the 2026 edition include Auger, AlixPartners, SAP, Maersk, o9 Solutions, 4FLOW, and Arvato, representing leadership across software, planning, logistics, and operational excellence.
