

Artist Push Launches New Growth Packages Focused on Real Listeners and Organic Discovery

TALLINN, ESTONIA, December 2, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Artist Push is pleased to introduce a new set of promotion packages created to help musicians gain authentic visibility and build sustainable streaming growth.

Starting today, artists can access Organic Discovery Boost, Audience Pulse Mix and Editorial & Radio Outreach - fully optimized service bundles crafted to deliver real listeners, sustainable exposure, and measurable performance data across Spotify and connected digital platforms.

As more independent artists enter the streaming market, the challenge is no longer simply uploading a track — it's getting it heard by real people who will keep listening. These new packages were built in direct response to what artists repeatedly ask for: clean, organic growth rooted in targeted distribution, playlist exposure, blog features, and real audience activity.

A Fresh Update to the Spotify Promotion Lineup

These new services bring an important upgrade to the Spotify Promotion category at Artist Push. With so many musicians turning to the platform for honest and safe promo options, the company refined its lineup to fit today's growth realities while keeping everything fully aligned with Spotify's standards.

All packages include a mix of organic plays, curated playlist pushes, and PR-style blog mentions — a combination designed to help artists strengthen credibility, attract new listeners, and improve positioning for future releases.

Organic Discovery Boost

A streamlined starter package offering:

- 5,000 Spotify Organic Plays + Real Listeners
- Playlist Push (1 playlist)
- Blog Placement (1 blog)
- Basic reporting with organic traffic sources

This package is ideal for artists testing new tracks, planning pre-release momentum, or looking for a clean introductory push.

Audience Pulse Mix

A more advanced visibility package that includes:

- 10,000 Spotify Organic Plays + Real Listeners
- Playlist Push (3 playlists)
- Blog Placement (3 blogs)
- Basic reporting with organic traffic sources

It's built for artists who want deeper reach, faster discovery, and multi-channel exposure to strengthen their track's overall presence.

A Stronger Focus on Safety, Quality, and Real Results

Unlike generic promotional services that rely on shortcuts or noncompliant traffic sources, Artist Push maintains a strict focus on real engagement. Every campaign is monitored in real time, with optimization applied throughout the process — from adjusting targeting and creatives to refining traffic distribution channels.

This ensures that artists receive clean, natural results, including:

- Increased streams from real listeners
- Growth in followers across platforms
- Improved listener retention
- Higher visibility for future releases

For independent musicians trying to stand out in a crowded streaming landscape, this level of transparency and real listener reach offers a genuinely safer and more practical path to growing on Spotify.

About Artist Push

Artist Push works with artists to grow their presence on major streaming platforms including Spotify, Apple Music, and YouTube. The focus is on real listeners, targeted promotion, and clear, data-driven planning that supports musicians at any stage of their career.
