True story of faith: Mom battles cancer to save unborn baby. Kevin Sorbo stars in 'Without a Doubt: God is Always There', available on VOD platforms Dec 2.

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, December 1, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- BMG-Global proudly announces the Video-on-Demand release of 'Without a Doubt: God is Always There' on December 2, 2025, available across all major platforms. This powerful true story of courage and conviction lands at a critical moment, as pro-life issues spark national discussions—with Virginia's October 2025 legislative push for abortion restrictions, Ohio's GOP efforts to safeguard unborn life, and the National Right to Life Committee's urgent advocacy.

Starring Kevin Sorbo—one of the most recognized and respected figures in faith-and-family entertainment—the film delivers an inspiring testament to choosing life even in the face of impossible odds.

Directed and written by Mike T. Tremblay, this film features evocative cinematography by Cory James Taylor and a stirring score by composer Pierre Vaucher.

Based on a true story, 'Without a Doubt: God is Always There' follows Erica, a young wife and mother, portrayed by breakout star Stacey Saunders in a captivating performance. Overjoyed by her second pregnancy, Erica faces a devastating Stage 4 inflammatory breast cancer diagnosis. Choosing faith over fear, she rejects termination and endures grueling treatment, hospitalization, and fractured bones to give her unborn daughter, Ella, a chance at life. Bolstered by her family and guided by steadfast belief, Erica renews her vows, cherishes moments with her children, and embodies resilience, love, and hope against staggering odds. The film features powerful performances by Kevin Sorbo, Abby Johnson, Tim Kaiser, Dale Hills, and Sherryl Despres, with Saunders delivering a standout portrayal of Erica that anchors the story's emotional core.

Alongside Tremblay, the film's producing team includes Tim Kaiser, Patty Kaiser, Kevin Sorbo, and Cory James Taylor.
