-- McDowell Insurance Advisors, a family-owned and operated independent insurance agency, announces it has successfully guided more than 100,000 clients nationwide through Medicare, health, and life insurance decisions. Founded by husband-and-wife team Jason and Sheena McDowell, the agency has distinguished itself in the industry through its Christian values-based approach and unique salaried advisor model that prioritizes client education over sales pressure.

McDowell Insurance Advisors

The agency's growth comes at a critical time as millions of Americans turn 65 each year and face the complex task of navigating Medicare enrollment. With dozens of plan types and hundreds of coverage combinations, choosing the right Medicare plan has become increasingly overwhelming for seniors and their families.

According to the company, what sets McDowell Insurance Advisors apart is its client-first compensation structure. Unlike traditional insurance agencies where advisors work on commission, every advisor at McDowell Insurance Advisors receives a salary. This eliminates sales pressure and ensures recommendations are based solely on what's best for the client rather than what generates the highest commission.

"We've always believed that doing what's right for people will take care of everything else," says founder Jason McDowell. "Our job isn't to sell insurance. Our job is to educate, guide, and protect."

The agency has contracted with more than 80 insurance carriers, providing clients access to thousands of Medicare, health, and life insurance solutions. This breadth of options allows the team to tailor coverage to each person's medical needs, budget, and lifestyle. The agency's dedicated Medicare division, Medicare Advisors, offers specialized support for individuals turning 65, those already enrolled in Medicare seeking plan reviews, and retirees transitioning from employer coverage.

Representatives from McDowell Insurance Advisors note that all advisors undergo continuous daily training to stay current on Medicare rule changes, carrier updates, and industry developments. This commitment to ongoing education ensures clients receive accurate, up-to-date information during their decision-making process.

All consultations and plan reviews are offered completely free of charge with no obligation to enroll. Individuals interested in Medicare guidance or seeking a free consultation can visit the agency's website to learn more about their services.
