

Holiday Travel Advisory: Airtec Service Urges Homeowners to Prep HVAC Systems Before Leaving Town in December

Local HVAC contractor provides essential winter tips and maintenance services to prevent costly heating emergencies while residents travel for the holidays.

WATSONVILLE, CA, UNITED STATES, December 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- With the holiday season in full swing, Airtec Service is advising Watsonville homeowners to prepare their HVAC systems before leaving town for winter travel. The initiative, aimed at preventing emergency breakdowns and energy waste, offers professional guidance and services to ensure heating systems remain safe, efficient, and fully operational while homes are unoccupied.

"During December, many families travel for the holidays, leaving heating systems running or neglected," said the spokesperson for Airtec Service. "A simple pre-travel inspection can prevent frozen pipes, unexpected breakdowns, and costly repairs when they return home."

Preventing Winter HVAC Emergencies While Away

Airtec Service recommends several proactive steps for travelers, including adjusting thermostats to an energy-efficient yet safe temperature, ensuring filters are clean, checking for unusual noises or leaks, and scheduling a professional maintenance visit. Technicians can inspect furnaces, heat pumps, and ductwork to identify potential hazards before they escalate into emergencies.

Watsonville residents have increasingly relied on expert guidance in recent years, as December temperatures can fluctuate dramatically, and unattended systems are prone to failures. By addressing these concerns ahead of time, homeowners can protect both their property and their energy bills during peak winter usage.

Special Travel-Ready HVAC Services

The company's holiday advisory includes services such as:

Pre-travel inspections for residential HVAC systems

Full maintenance and tune-ups to ensure reliable performance

Air duct cleaning and filter replacements for indoor air quality

Emergency contact setup for 24/7 support during vacations

By scheduling early, homeowners can secure priority appointments before the December travel rush. "We want every household to enjoy peace of mind knowing their heating system is safe and efficient while they're away," added the spokesperson.
