come. Brian has always emphasized that retirees deserve more than accumulation—they deserve preservation—and this designation allows him to deliver that promise with even greater precision.

The NSSA® designation adds a complementary layer of expertise focused on one of the most misunderstood parts of retirement: Social Security. With this training, Brian helps his clients make informed claiming decisions, avoid costly mistakes, and secure the highest lifetime benefit available to them. Social Security is far more complex than most people realize, and the difference between the wrong choice and the right one can total tens of thousands of dollars over a lifetime. Brian's mastery in this area gives his clients a clear advantage, especially those who want to maximize income, coordinate spousal benefits, or align Social Security with pensions, annuities, or other retirement strategies. His insight transforms a confusing government program into a powerful tool for long-term financial security.

Brian's journey to becoming a trusted advisor is rooted in a lifelong desire to help people make wise financial choices. Through Beavers Retirement Solutions, he has built a practice known for personal service, thoughtful planning, and an unwavering focus on safe, secure retirement income. Clients appreciate his straightforward approach and his ability to simplify complex financial choices into understandable, actionable steps. He has guided countless families through complex topics such as long-term care planning, income distribution, market risk reduction, and legacy preservation, always with the goal of ensuring that his clients retire with confidence rather than fear.

As a nationally licensed professional, Brian's reach extends well beyond his home state, enabling him to assist retirees nationwide seeking trustworthy guidance. His CTBA expertise deepens his ability to work with tax-efficient retirement strategies, bringing together the three pillars of protection—asset safety, Social Security optimization, and tax-advantaged planning—into a cohesive benefit for every client he serves. His work reflects not only technical strength but also a professional philosophy centered on education, honesty, and long-term service.

Today, Brian Beavers stands as a leader who continues to grow, evolve, and elevate the retirement planning profession. His new designations acknowledge his mastery, but his career tells the real story: a professional whose purpose is helping retirees secure their future with clarity, comfort, and peace of mind.
